Crows Nest Pass Musical Festival Oct. 25-26-27 Expects Record Entries and Attendance

Indications That Three Days Will Be Taxed to the Limit to Complete Competitions--Cranbrook Entrants May Engage Special Train To Permit Two Days at the Festival

Finance and executive committees of the musical festival meeting during the week received reports from the secretary, Mrs. J. H. Farmer, indicating that this year will see a greatly increased number of entries. The territory from which competitors may enter was enlarged this year, and with the interest aroused in the schools of the Pass by the appointment of an instructor in vocal music, Mr. Moffat, increased entries are anticipated from these sources.

Cranbrook is talking of running a special train to cover two days of the festival, as a large number of entries are expected from that city, also from Kimberley. Special railway rates are also to be in force from Lethbridge and intermediate points and from Cranbrook, for the three days, greatly reduced rates applying on single passengers as well as parties of ten, fifteen or more.

The adjudicator, Ronald W. Gibson, of Winnipeg, is a young man 31 years of age, former president of the Manitoba Music Teachers Association. He is vice-president of the Canadian College of Organists and holder of Associate degree of same, and he has adjudicated more than twenty festivals from Ontario to British Columbia.

Coleman members of the executive committee are Mayor Pattinson and Miss May Powell, of the high school staff. Robert Evans, Joseph Emerson, Rev. A. S. Partington, Rev. Roy C. Taylor, Rev. Father Dunbar are members of the general committee. W. J. Harris represents Natal-Michel on the general committee.

Towns which are represented on the general and executive committees are Macleod, Pieter Creek, Cowley, Bellevue, Hillcrest, Blairmore, Coleman, Fernie, Natal-Michel, Cranbrook, Kimberley. H. T. Halliwell of Coleman is president for 1934, and L. L. Morgan of Blairmore immediate past president.

Smith Memorial Cup for Competition

A cup to be known as the Frank J. Smith memorial cup, is being presented to the musical festival for annual competition by the widow and family of the late Mr. Smith, for seven years secretary of the festival. Those eligible for entry in the competition for which this cup is the prize will be the medallists in previous vocal solo classes of the annual festival.

Canadian Pacific Promotions

Official announcement has been made by Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., LL.D., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway Company, of the approval of the directors of the company to the election of Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president, Western Lines, with headquarters at Winnipeg, to succeed the late Mr. Grant Hall as vice-president of the company at Montreal, and of the appointment of Mr. W. M. Neal, General Manager Western Lines, to the post of Vice-President Western Lines, in succession to Mr. Coleman, Mr. H. J. Humphrey, General Manager, Eastern Lines, has been appointed Vice-President and General Manager Eastern Lines with headquarters in Montreal.

Rt. Hon. R. B. BENNETT
Premier of Canada

Recently attending the League of Nations in Geneva, he will soon return to Canada to resume his duties as government leader at Ottawa.

On his return from Paris, Mr. Bennett will reorganize the Conservative forces throughout Canada, according to a message from him on Wednesday.

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
Leader of the Opposition in Federal Government

Recent Liberal victories in Ontario lead Mr. King to demand a general election throughout Canada. Ottawa predictions are there will be no election till after one more session, therefore if a general election is held, it will be next June at the earliest.

A below zero was recorded as official temperature at the International Coal Co. plant on Tuesday morning, this being registered on the thermometer at 6 a.m. This constitutes a record for September in the memory of the oldest-timers here. By noon a west wind had started a thaw of the ice and snow.

Miss Margaret McDonald and Miss Irene James returned this week to Alberta university following the summer vacation.

Last Saturday Morning

A drifting blizzard from the east, snow half a foot deep and icicles two feet long hanging from roofs constitutes a sharp contrast from proverbial bright September morn to which Alberta is accustomed. Not for many years have people seen such a severe touch of winter at this time of the year, and the silver lining is the hope that a spell of fine weather may follow which will last well up to the end of the year.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Friday, Nov. 9 is the date of the first of the series of three magnificent dances under direction of the Knights of Pythias, in the Community hall. Watch for posters issued from this office giving particulars of prizes offered.

Ernest L. Desautels, manager for the Scottish Musical Players, of Montreal, writes this week stating he expects to give the dates for Coleman in the next few days. The Players are in big demand in the East, and the delay is due to having to shift dates. He states he will advise The Journal so there will be ample time to announce it throughout the district.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Crows Nest musical festival was held on Monday evening in the Greenhill hotel, attended by L. J. Morgan, Dr. Ross, Mr. Moffat, W. H. Moore, Miss Chardon, W. H. Chappell, H. T. Halliwell and Mrs. Farmer, secretary. A meeting of the general committee will be held on Monday evening next at 8:30 to make final preparations for the festival on October 25-26-27 in Columbus hall, Blairmore.

Well-Known Mines Inspector of Fernie Died in Montreal Hospital

Was Returning From Visit to Old Home in Scotland When Seized With Illness

Robert Strachan, mines inspector of East and West Kootenay, died in Montreal on Sept. 19. He had just returned from a trip to Scotland, his doctor advising a trip to improve his health. He went out early in the year via Panama from Vancouver. On reaching Montreal he went into hospital, and on Aug. 29 his son James, barrister of Natal, went east in response to a telegram informing him of his father's serious condition. For many years he lived at Fernie, where his wife, who died two years ago, lies buried. The funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at Fernie, Rev. Roy C. Taylor of Coleman conducting the service.

Contractor D'Appolonia has started a crew of at least 20 men to work on the erection of the building for the improved type of coal cleaning plant at McGillivray Coal and Coke Co. Ltd. More men it is expected will be employed as the work progresses.

The annual drawing in connection with the Legion of the Catholic Ladies Aid on Nov. 5 has nine prizes amounting to nearly $100, in very useful prizes. Tickets are 25c each or $1.00 a book of five. The first prize is a Majestic 1935 mantel radio.

Tests were recently made of all cows owned by Coleman people, and of 78 examined two were found to be unfit for dairy purposes.

Body Found in

Crows Nest Lake

For the past ten days an ardent search for John Critch of Fernie, who disappeared from Crows Nest relief camp about that time has taken place. The missing man was in ill health and it was thought that he might have committed suicide. Crows Nest lake was dynamited without result till Sept. 20 when the body was found floating near the shore. There was a bruise on the head and it was thought that there might have been foul play so an inquest will be held—Fernie Free Press.

Social Credit Meetings Interest Many

The weekly meetings in Albert Knowles' store of the Social Credit group are attended by quite a number of interested supporters of the William Aberhart system for Alberta. All interested are welcome to attend. The object is to study the policy and to prepare for organized effort to elect candidates who are pledged to support Social Credit. Mr. Aberhart's Sunday broadcasts are divided between bible study and Social Credit information, and for the past two Sundays a dynamic evangelist from the South, Mr. Neighbor, has been adding to the interest of the radio audience.

260 Miners Lose Lives In Explosion Disaster In Welsh Coal Mine

Wrexham, Wales.—It was officially stated Sunday night, 24th inst., that 260 miners had lost their lives in Saturday's explosion and fire at the Gresford collieries.

Frenzied rescue efforts were halted by a succession of new explosions in the workings. Rescue workers were called from the mine and it was decided to seal the shaft at the top.

The statement said the explosions were becoming frequent near places where rescuers were working. It was added that air pumped from the mine working contained carbon monoxide in dangerous quantities.

"Because of these circumstances, and in view of the increasingly great risk to men engaged in combating the fire, it was decided it would not be right to continue to expose the workers to such serious risk, and all persons have been withdrawn," a company statement said.

The explosion occurred in a section known as "the Dennis main deep," ranging from 800 to 1,200 yards below the surface. Five of the men who escaped from the blast spent nearly an hour climbing a narrow airshaft the 200 feet to the surface from the level on which they had been working.

At the pitmouth stood the miners' women.

It was pouring rain, but they paid no attention; now and then one was seen to faint, collapsing into the pools of water in which they stood.

A number of "largemen" assisted in filling the sand bags which were being carried down to fight the fire. One of the clergymen was crying quietly as he worked; two of his choir boys were trapped below in the mine.

Dozens of hands were raised into the air when a call was made for volunteers to go down into the fire and gas inferno. It was feared the captain of the rescue team had perished. He did not come out with the rescue party which retreated to the surface carrying two dead companions.

As a further barrier against the efforts of the rescue workers, huge rocks crashed into the mine after the explosion. Several rescue workers suffered from gas poisoning and were removed to the repair shed for treatment.

Many of the trapped men went to work on the night shift in order to be free to go to a football game scheduled to be played at Wrexham Saturday, increasing the number of workers usually on the shift.

Morro Castle Quiz

Startling Information Is Gleaned From Investigation

New York.—If obeyed, the last order from the bridge to the engine room of the Morro Castle would have left the flaming liner careening about the ocean, a whirl of death and fire, evidence at the United States department of commerce inquiry showed.

The engine crew, however, disobeyed the order and put the engines into neutral.

This testimony was given by an 18-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology student, William Wesley Tripp, who was on the tragic voyage from Havana as a cadet engineer.

Details of the death of Captain Robert R. Willmot—who suffered an acute attack of indigestion and died only several hours before fire broke out on his liner—were given by Howard Hansen, the fourth officer, who testified he saw no marks of violence on the body.

Rumors have been persistent that the master met foul play. The few charred bones found in the cabin where his body was cremated in the holocaust are now being examined for any evidence of poison.

Circus Lion Caused Panic

Shot By Guards After Escape From Cage During Parade

Richmond, Va.—Breaking open his cage during a circus parade, a lion dragged down a horse pulling one of the wagons and then ran at liberty down North boulevard while crowds of spectators fled in panic.

Circus guards shortly after shot the beast to death.

The animal ran several hundred yards down the street after Patrolman John Robert Paul had fired five times at him as he sank his fangs into the horse's neck, taking refuge in the Hankins-Johnson sheet metal works. A circus guard fired four times at the beast. A policeman finished the wounded animal with a pistol bullet.

Want Financial Aid

Canadian Fisheries Ask Government Grant For Advertising Purposes

Montreal.—J. C. Eckman, Vancouver, and John Dyballen, Prince Rupert, B.C., were named vice-presidents of the Canadian Fisheries Association at the 19th annual convention here. Captain Frederick W. Wallace, Montreal, was elected president.

A resolution was adopted urging the Dominion government to pay $100,000 at the next session of parliament to pay the cost for newspaper advertising for the development of Canada's home market for fish. Date of Canada's annual fish week was fixed as October 29 to November 3.

Creamery Survey In Alberta

For Purpose Of Determining Cost Of Manufacturing Butter

Edmonton.—Beginning in Calgary and in Edmonton, a creamery survey has been launched under the auspices of the provincial dairy branch, the University of Alberta, and the Dominion department of agriculture.

The purpose of the survey is to make a study of the cost of manufacturing butter in Alberta and also of the cost of trucking or otherwise delivering cream supplies.

MAY BE CHAIRMAN

It is understood that Sir Thomas White will be the chairman of the Royal Commission on Maritime Rights which has been appointed by the Dominion Government to determine the amount of subsidy which the Maritime Provinces should receive from the Dominion Treasury.

Takes Heavy Toll

Chinese Refugees Tell Of Lives Lost In Flood

Taokow, China.—An unending stream of bedraggled refugees from the region flooded by the Yellow river, their homes and livelihood destroyed, has poured into Taokow.

Government officials were considering a drastic proposal to transfer many of the refugees from the river valley to unsettled territories in Shan province for rehabilitation.

Their crops destroyed and not knowing what to do, the refugees, wandering aimlessly, tell stories of acute suffering and vast loss of life in the flooded regions of southern Hanoi and northern Honan provinces. It was reported thousands clustered together like frightened sheep, still occupy high spots in the Yellow river valley. Some still live in tree tops. Rescue work is proceeding slowly. The walled city of Changyuan has become an island, swilling flood water surrounding it.

Preparing New Voters' List

Registration To Begin October 15 And End November 17

Ottawa.—Registration of electors in Dominion electoral districts throughout Canada will begin October 15 and end November 17. A proclamation setting these dates is being issued by Dominion Franchise Commissioner John Thomson.

Issuing of the proclamation is merely part of the work in the preparation of the new lists under legislation passed at the last session of parliament. In no way does it suggest any decision for holding a general election, it is stated.

The rural enumerators will sit to revise and correct their preliminary lists on November 13, 14 and 15. The revision of the preliminary lists in urban polling divisions will commence on November 15 and will end on November 17.

Returns Home Via Canada

Vancouver.—Miss Sheila MacDonald, daughter of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who left London, Sept. 1 for Melbourne via the Surz Canal to attend the Melbourne and Victoria state centenary, will return home to England by way of Canada, according to advices received by the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company here.

HAVANA RIOT LINK IN SHIP FIRES?

Havana police have launched an investigation to determine whether a riot of dock workers at the Cuban capital as the liner, Morro Castle, was about to leave on her tragic voyage, may have some connection with the disastrous fire aboard the ship. This photo shows an aftermath of the riot, a young girl, injured as she stood watching the rioting, being lifted into an ambulance.

Tour Western Provinces To Secure Fodder For North Dakota

Edmonton.—Immediate survey of Alberta's fodder supplies with a view to marketing large quantities in North Dakota and possibly other drouth-stricken states was planned by Hon. F. S. Girdale, provincial minister of agriculture, after a conference with Sheriff M. McGregor, of Brandon, purchasing agent for the North Dakota branch of the United States federal emergency relief administration.

Sheriff McGregor reached Edmonton during a tour of the prairie provinces during which he is interviewing government officials and agricultural leaders. Accompanying him is W. Houtcooper, field representative of the North Dakota branch of the federal administration.

He has a definite contract for the purchase immediately of 200,000 tons of fodder for North Dakota, he declared, and another to buy about the same quantity of high grade fodder for South Dakota.

Some of this has been purchased already in Manitoba. Sheriff McGregor said, and he hopes to be able to buy 200,000 tons from each province.

Canadian purchases for United States consumption, however, depend upon reduction of the present freight rate by one-third on the part of Canadian railways, he emphasized.

Huge Wedding Cake

Cake For Royal Couple Will Weigh 800 Pounds

London.—The wedding cake for Prince George and Princess Marina of Greece will be seven feet, eight inches high and will weigh 800 pounds. It was learned as preparations for the wedding went forward.

The cake was ordered from an Edinburgh baking establishment, famous for its dainty pastries, and will be one of the largest ever baked in the United Kingdom. It will be necessary to send it to London in several pieces.

Prince George and his fiancée at present are staying at Balmoral castle with the king and queen and Princess Marina's parents.

Criticism Of Lottery

New York.—A broadside of criticism was directed at the city's proposals to raise relief funds through new taxes and a municipal lottery. Threat of a legal fight against the lottery was voiced. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia admitted a lottery stood about one chance in 10 of being declared legal.

Three Members Of Parliament Arrested At The Havus

The Hague, Netherlands.—Three Communist members of parliament who shouted insults after Queen Wilhelmina had finished her speech from the throne were arrested and jailed as an infuriated mob tried to get at them.

Police, fearing an outbreak of violence as the temper of the throng about the parliament building grew in hostility, led the men to prison by a secret route.

It was the first time in the history of the Netherlands that members of parliament were arrested in the course of a session. They were released later.

Ceylon Welcomes Prime

Colombo, Ceylon.—Remarkable scenes of enthusiasm greeted the arrival of the Duke of Gloucester, third son of His Majesty, as he arrived aboard the cruiser Sunnee en route to the Victoria state centenary celebrations in Australia.

Solution Of Lindbergh Kidnapping Case Is Believed Near

New York.—Police Commissioner John R. O'Ryan issued the following statement in connection with the Lindbergh case:

"The taking into custody of Bruno Richard Hauptmann makes urgent and closely co-ordinating efforts on the part of the New York police department, the Jersey troopers and the department of justice to bring to a solution of the Lindbergh kidnapping and with the facts at hand we are satisfied that the first and most important stage of the police work has been accomplished.

"The story as related by the detectives who have been engaged on the case for more than two and a half years might best be told in chronological fashion.

"Within two days after the payment of the ransom money in St. Raymond's cemetery, a $20 gold certificate was discovered in the East River Savings Bank, on Amsterdam avenue and 96th street.

"Subsequently, one of the ransom bills, bearing an automobile license number, was discovered in the Corn Exchange Bank at Park avenue and 125th street. From there the bill was traced to a gas station in the vicinity of the bank.

"The operator of the gas station described the customer who passed the $20 gold certificate in an almost identical fashion as the one described by the Fordham shoe store proprietor.

"Securing the name and address of the owner of the automobile bearing the license number appearing on the bill, the investigators kept the premises under surveillance. Because of the importance of the case and the danger in the least possible slip-up, the men acted with caution and at 9 o'clock Tuesday, Sept. 18, Bruno Richard Hauptmann was seen to leave his residence in the automobile bearing the license which appeared on the bill, and started toward Yorkville, with the detectives following.

"When his car reached Tremont and Park avenue, the detectives halted Hauptmann's car, directed him to get out and searching him, found another $20 gold certificate identified as part of the Lindbergh ransom.

"He was immediately taken back to his house and while questioned there admitted passing the $10 and $20 gold certificates found by the police. He denied, however all knowledge of the Lindbergh ransom money.

"Meanwhile, a search of the place was instituted and a pair of shoes located and identified by the Fordham shoe store proprietor was found.

"Today, in continuation of the search of the house, Detectives John Murphy, Frank Dunn and James Petrosini, of the New York police department; Sergeant Wallace, of the New Jersey State Police, and Special Agent Turo of the department of justice found, after a diligent search of the entire premises, $13,750 hidden under the floor of the garage and in the sack of the door.

"From the many conflicting stories Hauptmann has told detectives, we learned that he is 35 years old, born in Saxony, Germany, and after serving in the German army, stowed away on the steamship Washington, arriving in the United States at New York in 1923.

"He explains the presence of the money as a result of careful savings, and the gold certificates as forgeries, with word of the supposed infidelity shortly after President Roosevelt took office."

Against Works Program

Calgary Wants To Spend Federal Grant In Own Way

Calgary.—By a polling of more than five to one, Calgary's property owners turned down a public works program involving expenditure of $180,000 granted by the Dominion government for that purpose alone.

The plebiscite, in which only one-fifth of the registered voters cast their ballots, coincided with the city's determination to seek leave from the Dominion government to spend the apportionment on civil finance other than public works. Mayor Andrew Davison visited Edmonton to consult the backing of the Alberta government in such an arrangement.

The citizens voted 2,839 against and 555 for repairs to the horse show building at the exhibition grounds totalling $15,000; 2,837 against and 362 for an assembly hall and gymnasium at Western Canada high school to cost $85,000, and 2,516 against, 782 for a public swimming pool estimated at $70,000.

Lodges Disbanded

Berlin.—Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, issued a decree dissolving 13 Masonic lodges. No reason was given for the action except the statement that it was done under the Jan. 8 law giving the government the right to disband lodges.

No Lives Lost In Fire

Nome, Alaska.—It has been found that the two Eskimos that were reported to have lost their lives in the $3,000,000 fire of Monday are safe. This means that no lives were lost in the fire.

League Of Nations Hears Danger Of War In East Is Lessened

Geneva.—Dusy with efforts to end war in South America, delegates to the League of Nations heard that the danger of war in the Far East has lessened.

A day of debate as to the best way of halting the conflict in the Chaco Boreal was lightened by the assertion of Russian spokesmen, made privately, that relations between Japan and Russia have improved.

The Russian sources also stated their belief that both Japan and Germany, recent withdrawals from the league, may be induced to return. Other quarters held similar hopes but declined to forecast their quick realization.

Geneva developments of the past few days, headed by the Soviet's admission to the League, have created the following impressions among delegates, surveys indicated:

1. Both Japan and Germany are doing some hard thinking as to the advisability of returning to the League, their train of thought started by Russia's entry.

2. A period of delicate negotiations with Japan to remove existing causes of friction will be necessary. Russian sources forecast, and other members of the League council fear that hostilities may break out before they are completed.

3. Leaders of the League look to the United States to help settle the Chaco conflict under the aegis of the League, believing that simultaneous peace efforts along other lines would only offer an excuse for prolongation of the war.

4. Efforts to form an agreement among the powers to protect Austria's independence by co-operative armed intervention thus far have not progressed notably, because Great Britain declines to participate and Yugoslavia balks Italian leadership in such an effort.

5. France and Russia have become "dancing partners" if not actual allies.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, and Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, who staunchly defended Russia's League candidacy, continued to centre the interest of the curious here. Annulled by autograph hunter, Barthou took off his coat the better to sign.

British Films

Large Sums Being Spent To Produce Better Pictures

London.—Opening of the newly enlarged Twickenham studios will mark the beginning of a serious effort to produce greater British pictures, it was said here.

Julius Hagen spent $2,000,000 to equip the Twickenham studios—already one of the largest in England—with modern devices, including underwater film apparatus. Six major films are on the program of the company Hagen started, and $5,000,000 will probably be spent in the first year of work.

New Planes For U.S.

Purchase Of Planes Each Year Until 2,800 Sky Fighters Are Assembled

Washington.—President Roosevelt has approved the Baker board's report on United States army aviation and authorized the air corps to prepare a budget calling for the purchase of 700 to 800 new aeroplanes each year until it has 2,300 first-class sky fighters.

In so doing, the executive turned thumbs down, at least for the time being, on agitation for creation of a unified air corps combining army, navy and other governmental aeronautical activities.

Marconi Suffers Illness

Rome.—Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy was slightly ill aboard his yacht at Venice of a stomach disorder, but reports that his condition is serious were denied.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

SCANNING the local horizon for "Notes and Comments," we were almost non-plussed at the scarcity of material to furnish interesting copy. But enquiring around and listening to the usual talk that goes on in all communities, we came to the conclusion that for every man of action, there are nine obstructionists who vehemently express their opinions "agin the government" and ninety who are apathetic and do not trouble about anything as long as it does not disturb their slumbers. That totals a hundred percent. The figures may not be absolutely correct, but approximately they reflect the average run of human nature.

THE thought giving rise to these conclusions developed after a conversation with our mayor, who among other progressive moves has suggested that this community of about 3,000 souls have a regulated system of garbage disposal. It should have had it long ago, is the opinion of those who desire a clean and tidy town, so that clouds of dust and ashes will not be blown all over you as you walk past a lane on a windy day. "But what's the use of trying?" queries the mayor, who experiences the same stumbling blocks as many other leaders have in trying to give the wheels of progress a push. Wasn't it Bruce of Bannockburn who watched a spider trying to attach its web to a rafter? Despite repeated failures, it eventually succeeded. So inspired was Bruce that he forthwith "upped and atted 'em" and licked the whole English Army. So Mayor Pattinson, though not having quite as big a job as that, might find encouragement from repeated efforts which eventually bring success.

ANOTHER subject brought to our attention was the discussion over school affairs, which never fail to stir up interest and lots of talk. Here's what it's all about.

THE school trustees met on Friday evening to appoint an additional teacher to the high school. Applications of Margaret Allan and Gwen Brown, graduates of Alberta university, were reviewed. In addition to the regular course, Miss Allan took a special course to further qualify her for high school teaching.

THREE members of the board, voted for Miss Brown, A. Reid being chairman in the place of J. M. Allan, who was not present during discussion on the appointment. A reason they voted for Miss Brown it is reported was in view of unfavorable criticism some years ago when daughters of trustees were appointed on the public school staff.

A FURTHER STEP on the Road to Recovery

A Statement by the Prime Minister of Canada

THE Dominion of Canada will offer for public subscription within the next few days the 1934 Refunding Loan. It is an undertaking of such significance to every citizen that I think it fitting to present this brief explanation of its close relation to the welfare and continued progress of our country.

The 1934 Loan is not an incidental effort. It is a part—and an essential part—of the great debt conversion programme in which Canada has been engaged since 1931, and by which we are refunding at maturity the large sums borrowed for wartime purposes. The national importance of this programme—and of the 1934 Loan as part of it—cannot be over emphasized. It is important from three aspects: 1—National Credit; 2—National Economy; 3—National Recovery. I shall deal with each of these in turn.

1. National Credit

National credit means to a nation what an honest reputation means to a man. Its maintenance is a primary essential and necessitates that each obligation be met, fully and promptly, as it comes due. Our debt conversion programme is then, in the first instance, our method of meeting our obligations and thus maintaining our credit.

By this programme Canada has already refunded $488,000,000 of maturing wartime debt, and completion of the 1934 Loan will bring the refunded total to over one billion dollars. As a result, Canada's credit stands notably high, both at home and in the great money markets of the world.

Striking evidence of our high credit standing was given within the last few months when Canada secured immediate over-subscription of a long-term loan in London at a price to yield the investor less than 3½% and, in New York, obtained a one-year Loan of $50,000,000 bearing interest at 2 per cent. And there is equally striking evidence at the present moment in the fact that every internal issue of Dominion of Canada Bonds now outstanding is selling today at substantially above its issue price. The twelve-year 4½ Bonds of the 1933 Refunding Loan, issued at 96½, are now selling at 104 to yield approximately 3½%.

2. National Economy

The debt conversion programme, in the second place, is providing substantial savings in public interest charges. The debt which we are refunding was incurred with interest rates at artificially high wartime peaks. Refunding is now being accomplished with interest rates throughout the world moving steadily downward toward more normal levels—an encouraging world movement which is essential to business recovery. By refunding under these conditions Canada has already obtained a reduction of the previous interest charges amounting to more than $9,000,000 per annum, and completion of the 1934 Loan will provide a further saving of over $5,000,000 per annum.

The annual saving of over $14,000,000 thus secured has a direct cash benefit to every tax-payer. This saving has much more than offset the interest charges on the debt which has been incurred to meet the extraordinary burden of unemployment relief. It has, to a considerable extent, offset the heavy burdens which the depression period has imposed with respect to railway and other current requirements. It will also pave the way to tax reductions with the return to better times.

3. National Recovery

The debt conversion which Canada has achieved since 1931, by thus maintaining national credit and securing national economy, has been a major factor in our progress toward business recovery.

A year ago, preliminary to the 1933 Refunding Loan, I took occasion to express the belief that Canada had passed the low point of depression and was definitely upon the road to recovery. Today, our progress toward recovery is a matter of established fact. Since the low point of February 1933, the trend of business has been moving steadily upward in an improvement so marked and so consistently sustained that we need no longer doubt its reality.

The facts of business recovery are written beyond dispute in our statistical records. The most significant indices relate to physical volume of business, industrial production, carloadings, electric power production, employment and prices. Here is the record in each case:

	During Past Year	Since Low Point of Depression February 1933
Physical volume of business.....	13.8%	42.8%
Industrial Production.....	15.7%	56.9%
Carloadings.....	10.3%	29.4%
Electric Power Production.....	12.4%	32.7%
Employment.....	14.7%	17.1%
Wholesale Prices.....	4.9%	13.7%
Farm Products Prices.....	7.7%	44.3%

* In the case of carloadings, employment and prices, the latest figures available are those for August; in other cases, those for July.

Our external trade figures are equally encouraging. During the first eight months of the present year, exports of Canadian products increased approximately $90,000,000, or 32.7% over the same period last year. The corresponding increase for imports has been slightly under $95,000,000, or 38.2%.

A Further Step

Anyone who reflects upon these three aspects of credit, economy and recovery will at once appreciate that the debt conversion programme is vitally important to every Canadian and that, consequently, the success of the 1934 Loan is the personal concern of every man and woman in the Dominion.

The 1934 Loan is a further step in a great national undertaking; its success means a further step on the road to recovery. I know that I need not stress the attractiveness of the Loan as the soundest possible investment, for that will be universally recognized. I do, however, earnestly call upon my fellow Canadians to support this Loan to the limit of their abilities as an opportunity to promote our national welfare. I know of no way in which the individual citizen can render greater service to himself and to his country.

THE regrettable feature in a case of this nature is that qualifications are set aside owing to fear of criticism, and an applicant is in a sense penalized because her father is giving public service. The trustees are elected to carry on and The Journal does not believe in undue influence of any kind from any source whatever, but it does feel that this or similar cases react unfavorably to applicants who, if considered on qualifications alone, would receive an unbiased decision.

THERE is a penalty fastened on an applicant which is unfair to her prestige, preventing the application being considered on equal terms.

TRUSTEES have to face unpleasant duties at times, as was evidenced last year when for one vacancy five applications were received, all from local teachers. There are occasions when it would appear in the interests of local applicants if appointments were left to high school inspectors to decide purely on qualifications and merit. Trustees then would be relieved from local influence, and fear of public opinion.

SO there's our frank opinion. You can light your pipe with it or throw it into the ash can, or judge it in your own way. You'll do that anyway!

ANOTHER topic engrossing public attention and radio listeners is Social Credit. Albert Knowles appears to be the local apostle or earnest disciple of William Aberhart, and not only here but in Bellevue a group meets for weekly study and education on the merits of the proposed plan whereby a monthly dividend will be paid to provide purchasing power. The plan has many avowed opponents, as all new proposals have, but the fact that people are striving to find a way out of the chaotic condition of unemployment and lack of purchasing power is more to be commended than sitting down and moaning "what's the use?" Even though the groups receive no greater benefit than that of social intercourse, it is more to be desired than burying one's head in the sand. Inertia is a curse to progress, and many main streets in many small communities need a jolt to awaken them from their somnolence.

Does It Occur to You that local stores, business houses and trading offices meet with all kinds of competition from house to house peddlers? People are solicited to buy from these itinerant everything from shanks of beef to Christmas cards and packets of pins. There is an element of unfairness in this type of competition, for with some it is a part time job when not engaged at their regular work, while with others they will sell at any old price to get rid of their stuff. The established tradesman maintains a place of business and pays a tax on his stock and his store or office. The peddler or canvasser pay no tax whatever for the privilege of doing business, except he is an outsider who under the town bylaws must pay a license. The fairest policy of live and let live is to buy from those who are in business the year round, and not from chisellers who horn in on the established trade. There is sufficient local competition to ensure getting a square deal on anything the public wishes to purchase. There is a principle which members of trade unions stoutly maintain in defending their rights, but which at times is overlooked to the detriment of local people.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Traffic earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the week ended Sept. 14 totalled $2,942,000, as compared with $2,540,000 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of $488,000.

Jeffrey Arnott, assistant purchasing agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been promoted to the post of assistant purchasing agent with headquarters at Vancouver. B. W. Roberts, general purchasing agent, Montreal, announced.

Canadian farm products exported to the United States in August were valued at $1,366,000, an increase of more than $186,000 compared with the corresponding month last year when they amounted to $833,000, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

The cost of living in England increased by one per cent. during August, the Labor Ministry Gazette stated. Taking July, 1914, as the average, the cost of living index was 143 per cent. on September 1 compared with 142 on August 1. The index stood at 141 in September, 1933.

Full freedom for civil servants to participate in politics, even to the extent of being a candidate in the federal, provincial or municipal arenas, through leave of absence without pay, will be sought during the coming session of parliament by the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada.

Grave fears as to the survival of the French-Canadian race as a distinct entity on Canadian soil are felt by Mayor Camille Houde, of Montreal. Speaking at a ceremony to commemorate the arrival in Canada of Jacques Cartier, Mayor Houde questioned the likelihood of the race's survival.

The weekly illustrated paper, "Canada," published in London for the past 27 years, is being merged with another weekly, the "Canadian Gazette." The editor and founder of the former publication, Walter Leffroy, closes 37 years of prominent association with Canadian news work in London.

Minister of Finance E. N. Rhodes declined to say definitely whether Canada would follow the lead of the United States and nationalize silver. An assurance was sought by two Montreal silver exchange officials, but the finance minister said he could not be expected to make any definite statement on a government policy of such importance.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING SHOW?

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT
(Grapho-Analyst)
(All Rights Reserved)

The increased interest in Grapho-Analysis, the science of character delineation from handwriting, has brought in its train not only a host of converts, but the inevitable sceptic.

One of the most frequent objections is posed by those who ask "How can handwriting show one's character, when we are taught how to write from the same copybook in school?"

The answer to this objection only proves how strongly handwriting does show character. Because if you will study the writing of a single class of students who have learned writing from the same copybook, a few years afterwards, you will not find two who write alike.

Each one writes differently—a different slant, a different pressure, and differing conformations of letters. This shows that, as one grows, one's character changes or strengthens, and one's handwriting changes too.

And whilst I am discussing objections, I would like to stress that it is not possible to tell a person's age or sex from handwriting. Here and there, a trained grapho-analyst will be able to hazard a guess. There is no scientific foundation for it, however, and consequently, no reputable grapho-analyst will attempt it.

I have seen women's writing that looked masculine, and, conversely, I have examined the writing of men that looked for all the world like that of a woman. Then again some young people write a mature hand, and on the other hand, I have seen the writing of a man of 60 which seemed to be that of a youth in his teens. We can only get from handwriting what is in it.

There is increasing evidence that certain ailments can be discerned from handwriting. People suffering from heart trouble reflect this condition in their writing.

But grapho-analysis has not yet attained the point at which it is possible to analyze ailments from handwriting with entirely scientific accuracy.

There are factors that time and continued research will attain, but character analysis from handwriting is an accomplished fact. And it is also true that vocational guidance can be given by trained grapho-analysts.

If you want to discover your own characteristics and traits, as revealed by your handwriting, take advantage of the offer made at the foot of this article.

D.N.—You are ruled by your heart—impulsive; emotional appeals will always draw your sympathy. You are inclined to get hysterical. There is evidence of good powers of concentration. If you get really interested in anything, you find no difficulty in concentrating all your powers on it. You like to move around; to change environment. You are not content to remain passive in a routine way.

F.B.—You have considerable depth of feeling and a desire to get on in the world. There is a sense of balance displayed. You do not talk too much. You are inclined to be childish; you do not make friends indiscriminately. Mechanical or engineering work is indicated.

These are, of course, merely brief extracts from analyses.

Would you like to know what your writing tells? And that of your friends? You will be amazed at the revelation disclosed. Send a letter in your normal writing, and state birthdate in each case. Enclose with 10c (for each separate specimen) and 3c stamped addressed envelope. Replies will be mailed as soon as possible, but please allow at least two weeks. Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

BAKED CORN AND TOMATOES

- 2 cups cooked corn
- 2 cups tomatoes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons butter

Mix seasonings with the corn and tomatoes and pour all into a greased baking dish. Spread the crumbs over the top, dot them with the butter and bake in a medium oven for one-half hour. This is a satisfactory way of utilizing left over corn or tomatoes.

BAKED PRUNES

Cover 1 pound of prunes with cold water and let stand for four hours. Drain prunes and reserve the liquor; add ½ cup sugar to the liquor and boil until the sugar is dissolved, skimming if necessary. Place the drained prunes in a covered casserole, cover with hot liquor and bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 40 minutes.

Woman Of 90 To Marry Young Man
So State Will Not Get Her Money

Life to Antonia Moreira of Lisbon, Portugal, has consisted of one tax collector after another and now at the ripe old age of 90 she is going to strike back. She's going to marry a man of 24.

Court permission has been given for the marriage. Senora Moreira acidly told the court that she knew she would die very shortly and that "it would be a sin if I died and all my belongings should pass over to the state's treasury, which did nothing all through my life but collect taxes."

In marrying a young man, she was sure that her possessions would mean a good chance in life for him, who, strong and young, might then be happier in life, despite the high taxes.

Beacons To Be Erected In London
Streets For This Proposal

"Belisha beacons" will be erected for protection of London pedestrians, another feature of the war on motor accidents. They get their name from Leslie Hore-Belisha, minister of transport, who presided at a conference when it was decided to introduce them.

There are posts seven feet high with a yellow-painted glass globe, unlighted, at the top. They will be put at the crossing-places for pedestrians. In the dark they will reflect headlights a quarter of a mile away.

Flying At High Altitudes

Wiley Post Sees Fast Time Made In Upper Stratos In Near Future

Wiley Post, round-the-world flyer whose most recent interest has been an experiment with an aeroplane that would make commercial flying practicable at altitudes of around 40,000 feet, arrived in Vancouver recently.

Since he completed his solo flight around the world in the record time of seven days, 18 hours and 49 minutes, Post has been working at development of a high altitude ship. He said he believes his machine is capable of sustained flight at around 40,000 feet and will make 350 miles per hour at that altitude. He is certain high altitude flying will be commercially general before long.

For flights of 300 miles it will be economically better to rise at least to 20,000 feet, Post said, and for longer flights, machines will travel from 40,000 to 50,000 feet above the earth.

Little Journeys In Science

GOLD FROM THE SEA
(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Science has shown that there is gold in the sea, but the authorities on this subject are in dispute as to the quantity. Figures given indicate that there are about 700 ounces of the precious metal for each of the two billion inhabitants of the earth, which would amount to $24,000 per person if gold is valued at $35 per ounce.

Is it any wonder then, that ever since chemistry became an exact science, plans have been proposed to mine this wealth from the sea? One famous scientist lured by the idea was the late Dr. Fritz Haber, who was awarded the Nobel prize for his method of producing ammonia gas from the air. He found such small amounts in sea water that he concluded the idea was impractical. In his opinion there is more gold in the living organisms of the sea than there is in the sea water.

Recent developments seem to indicate that the chemist of the next decade may be able to extract gold from sea water commercially. This is based upon the fact that a plant has been built in the United States for the extraction of bromine from the ocean.

Bromine is used in the production of ethyl gasoline and hence is in great demand. A few years ago chemists turned to sea water for bromine, even though it contained only seventy parts of bromine in a million of water. Very large quantities of water must be treated—2,000 gallons to obtain a pound of bromine.

It is easy to see why scientists talk so confidently of securing gold from sea water. Bromine is only worth twenty cents a pound whereas gold is valued at about $35 an ounce.

Thus, in spite of the fact that there is much less gold than bromine in sea water, science is hopeful of mining gold on a commercial scale from the ocean. It has been estimated that the gold content of sea water is about $25,000,000 a cubic mile.

CHAPTER I.

"When you tell me that you're going out to Crevasse County to claim your half of the old Hour-glass ranch, I tell you, Mr. Keene, that you're just asking for trouble."

Simon Burwell, first vice-president of the Drovers Rank in Cato, leaped back in his chair, spread his hands tip-toe and stared at his visitor. He took him in from head to foot and frankly liked what he saw. Then he studied an open letter in his desk.

"Your uncle was a good friend of mine," he said. "But he was very careless or unwise to make the will he did."

"What do you mean?" Gerald Keene straightened up in his chair and Simon Burwell grinned at him. "Don't carry a chip on your shoulder, my boy. I'm not criticizing old Peter. Why, boy, I loved him. Your uncle lived many years in the West. He and old Joe Carr were partners for years. It was quite natural that when Peter died he should leave the Hour-glass ranch to his partner, Joe Carr. But when he dragged you in to the matter he only complicated matters. How long since you saw your uncle?"

"I never laid eyes on him in my life," said Keene. "He was my mother's brother and the family was widely separated. I happened to learn of the bequest quite accidentally. I had been . . . in business . . . in the Northwest and I happened to drop in at my old home. There I learned about the will so I got the letter from Judge Frame to you to identify myself. The old man told me that you have always handled the ranch business. That's so, isn't it, sir?"

"It has never kept me busy, I'm sorry to say," said Burwell. "There is no business worthy speaking of. You're the half owner of a big ranch that doesn't pay a dollar of dividends . . . and won't. Have you seen your uncle's will?"

Burwell did not wait a reply. He went to a wall safe and came back with a slim document that he read meticulously, accentuating every word.

"You see, he left the Hour-glass ranch to you and old Joe Carr and he provided that, in case either should die, the entire property passes to the other. It's a queer sort of way to devise property. For more'n ten years old Joe Carr has tried to make a good thing out of the place but each year he's only got deeper in the red."

ing the world spin past between the toes of his boots on the sand.

"Duro," he said, "we're in a mess right up to our hocks. I swear I don't see any answer to it . . ." His lean face lit and his eyes twinkled. There are eyes that gleam and eyes that twinkle. These twinkled. There is a difference. One has humor; the other has none. Stone studied his friend for a brief moment.

"Shoot," he said.

"Well, I have old man Durwell my letter of introduction and he told me all he knew about the Hour-glass ranch. It seems that by my uncle's will half the ranch is mine; the other half belongs to his old partner, Joe Carr. He lives on the Hour-glass with his daughter and has made a flat failure of it. If either of us dies, the other gets the entire ranch."

"What could he tell you about your uncle?" demanded Stone.

"Very little; only that he was a lovely old fellow and that he was mighty fond of Carr. Oh! He told me, too, that two men, Dustin and Goddard, in the last few years have bought up a lot of 'scrip' and started a ranch next to the Hour-glass. They call it the Broken Spur. Burwell says old man Carr drinks a bit and is convinced that Dustin and Goddard have been systematically looting the Hour-glass for years. Too bad about old man Carr's drinkin', isn't it?"

"It sure is. You can reform anybody but a systematic drinker. Go on."

"That's all Burwell said there's a regular feud between the two ranches that reached the status of a Civil War on pay-days. I reckon old man Carr's been shootin' off his mouth too much after a drinkin' spell. You know how it is. They say a lot more'n they ever started to say. Could you find out anything?"

"A little. While you were over at the bank I hunted up a man I know. You see, I used to work for the Lazy M in Nebraska. They were a member of the Stock-raisers Association and that's a lucky bet in a cattle country. Just before Nebraska went crazy over Free Silver, no reason her people shouldn't be seen in spots. Old Ben Lyon, who used to be their attorney, is practical here now. I saw his shingle. I went to see him while you were with Burwell."

"Well, go on."

Stone thoughtfully rolled a cigarette and went on as though talking to himself.

"Ben says he's known Joe Carr since he was a pup. He says that drunk or sober, old Carr is as straight as a larriat but that for some years he's been up against hard luck. Just plain up against it. About three years ago a pony slammed him against a buckskin-post in a corral and bust his head out of his right leg. That's when he began to drink. I reckon. It busted him up a good deal. Not enough to keep him from ridin', but enough to make him a poor bet on a ranch that needs two good eyes. He got a fine manager in one Frank Crews, but they just can't make both ends meet."

"What seems to be the trouble?" Keene's tone was anxious.

"Exactly what I asked old Ben. He said that as far as he can see there are two reasons; Carr is mighty old-fashioned . . . and the Broken Spur is just to 'em."

"Well, what of it? These days some one's got to be next door."

"Huh. You're damned innocent for the man I know you to be. I suppose you never heard of rustlin'?"

"That's archaic," said Keene sharply.

"Men don't rustle these days. 'Think me a bit! Old man Carr is always short of cash. He has to hire his men just for the time he needs 'em. He's got only about four or five men permanently on his payroll. That means that poverty keeps him from buildin' up a bunch of vaddies he could count on to charge hell with a cup o' water if the Hour-glass needed it. He's honest, too, and that's a handicap when he lives next to the Broken Spur. For years Dustin and Goddard have been tryin', by a lawsuit, to get the water supply that makes the Hour-glass valuable. You can see what happens. Old man Carr, crippled, is bein' robbed deaf, dumb and blind to make him sell his place."

"That he can only sell his share. Half of the place is mine."

"Well then . . ." Stone haunched himself erect in his chair.

"I don't see what happens. Old man Carr, crippled, is bein' robbed deaf, dumb and blind to make him sell his place."
